SCOT BEERS - THE BRANDS

SCOT BEERS

Scot Beers (CCB) is a group of Scottish, independent craft breweries who have come together to share our extensive beer and brewing knowledge, our resources and experienced staff, to produce award-winning beers, fit for any CAMRA member!

We now have a new website which brings all of our beers together in one place so you can buy beer from all three breweries in our one-stop-shop!

Broughton Ales

- Traditional Scottish ales & stouts, brewed under the 'Jock family', with Old Jock being in the top 5 best-selling beers in Scotland. Currently exported to 10 countries worldwide
- HOPO range of lagers & IPA's

Spey Valley Brewery

- Scottish beers brewed in the heart of the Scottish whisky trail. Popular with tourists and locals alike
- Varied product range from Speyside Lager to barrel-aged whisky beers with high ABV and award-winning stouts

Alechemy Brewing

- Aimed at a younger market and the craft beer enthusiasts, Alechemy beers include imperial stouts, fruit beers and many collaborative projects with other breweries & distilleries. This year, you may have sampled our collab rum beer with Matugga Rum - RUM DMC. It was a cracker that we've been asked to brew again, and again.....

CAMRA AWARDS

Among the many awards for our beers and breweries, Old Jock Ale has been winning awards now for over three decades.

In 2023, this beer won overall Best Craft Beer in Scotland in the SIBA awards and also GOLD in the Champion Strong Ale category, voted by CAMRA members.

Ten Storey Malt Bomb by Alechemy Brewing won GOLD in the CAMRA Champion Beers Premium Bitter 2023! We're proud as punch with this one and this award has helped to grow our sales both on-trade outlets and in off-trade shops.

We are always proud of awards won, but those voted for by CAMRA members are always a little extra special as these are the very people who are drinking our beers.

A huge thanks to everyone involved in voting in the CAMRA beer competitions.
